

EIGHT NATIONS TO DEFAULT ON DEBTS TO U. S.

FINLAND ONLY COUNTRY THAT WILL REMIT

Twelve Governments Owe America About $962,414,177.44

Washington, Dec. 14.—Eight nations tonight had announced formally an intention to default on their semi-annual war debt payment to the United States, due tomorrow, and three others were expected to follow. Of the 12 governments whose installments, totalling $962,414,177.44, mature at this time, only Finland has given notice that it will remit.

All the rest have been continuously in default since June, 1924. France, Italy, Poland, Rumania, Czechoslovakia and Hungary today notified Secretary Hull through their envoys that they were unable to meet their current payments or that they were unable to do so.

Great Britain and Lithuania previously had served similar notice. This left only Belgium, Estonia and Latvia still to be heard from, but there was no expectation in official quarters that they would pay.

Most of the formal diplomatic replies to the regular American reminder of accounts due were transmitted to the state department by messenger, but Ambassador Andre De Labaulde personally delivered that of the French government.

It reiterated in response to the customary American invitation, an intention to seek "as soon as circumstances permit," a settlement of its debt, but it added that it still considered its "inability to put forward proposals at the present time."

France is second only to Great Britain as the largest European war debtor. Its December 15 installment, plus principal and interest in arrears since December, 1932, amounted to $250,292,592.96.

Poland, which owes $12,325,385.55, has made the latest payment of $1,000,000, but is still in default. It is the only one of the nations which has made a partial payment since December, 1932.

Czechoslovakia, whose total due at this time is $9,541,143.22, called attention to previous notes in which it had stated its reasons for inability to pay, and said the "prevailing unsettled economic and financial conditions existing throughout the world do not warrant convenient and successful outcome of negotiations for revision of the settlement now."

Children's Mail To Santa Claus To be Preserved

Santa Claus, Ind., Dec. 14.—A lot of children's mail is going to be preserved for all time beneath the 23 foot statue of Santa Claus here Christmas afternoon.

A vault, built beneath the statue, will hold the mail. All any child has to do to have his name and address dropped into the vault is to mail it on a penny post-card. The name must be written, however, in a space one and one-fourth by three and one-half inches.

The postcards must be addressed to the Secretary of Santa Claus Park here. The names of President Roosevelt, Gov. Paul V. McNitt and other persons also will be put in the vault.

The Santa Claus Good Fellowship club, a non-profit organization, is behind the movement.

HAUPTMANN UNMOVED BY DEATH NEWS

Says Something Will Happen To Prevent Electrocuting

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 14.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted murderer of the kidnapped Lindbergh baby, learned today that the week of January 13 has been set for his death in the electric chair.

With grave politeness he thanked the unnamed prison guard who brought him the news, and reiterated his conviction that "something will happen so I won't go to the chair."

A short time later he received a visit from his spiritual adviser, the Rev. John Mattiesen, of Trenton, who found him as cool and composed as he had been throughout the six weeks' trial at Flemington.

"He knew what was coming up," the minister said. "The news really made no impression on him. He is full of confidence in the fact that the state of New Jersey does not intend to permit a murder."

Should all of the eleven hour efforts of his attorneys fail to save him, Hauptmann will probably go to the chair exactly a month from today. Although he may be executed any time during the week designated, the custom at state prison is to have executions on Tuesday night about 8 p. m.

Informing Hauptmann of the new death date was apparently a task no one desired. C. Lloyd Fisher, his chief counsel, was so upset yesterday on learning Justice Thomas W. Trenehard had fixed a new date that he declined to tell the condemned man. Col. Mark O. Kimberling, principal keeper at state prison, then said he would notify Hauptmann. He changed his mind later and delegated one of the guards to carry the message.

Hauptmann had slept late, as he frequently does, and had finished breakfasting when the guard came to his death house cell with the news. Hauptmann was very calm, the guard reported to Kimberling, and showed no emotion, saying he had been "expecting the information almost any time."

Washington, Dec. 14.—Influential Republicans sought tonight to prevent the National Committee contest over a convention city, opening Monday, from becoming identified with the prospects of Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas or Col. Frank Knox of Illinois for the presidential nomination.

Spokesmen for Kansas City and Chicago ran up against arguments that to choose either site would seem to favor the potential nominee from the locally selected. This was disputed, but friends of Cleveland drew encouragement just the same from consideration given it as "neutral" territory.

The Kansas and Illinois committees, John Hamilton of Kansas, committee counsel, and George F. Getz, of Illinois, party treasurer, contended the decision should not need to become involved with the circumstance that a possibility for the nomination comes from a certain section.

Hamilton, expected to work for London if and when the governor declares himself, argued for Kansas City. Getz reminded interviewers that Warren Harding of Ohio was nominated at Chicago in 1920, although Frank Lowden of Illinois was a candidate.

Opponents supporting Cleveland's claim found eastern support. It was said some possibilities for the nomination had objected to any move that might be construed as organization support of London or Knox.

Charles D. Hilles, of New York, pointedly remarked to reporters there were "strong candidates" in the east as well as west. He mentioned no names, nor would he speak regarding convention cities.

"There is a feeling that the nomination should go to the west," he said, "but in my opinion geography will not control the situation. The convention will decide who is the strongest candidate and that is the candidate we want."

Frank L. Smith, Illinois committee man, talked with him at length, urging his support for Chicago. Money was not involved, all three of the principal cities, added readiness to meet the $150,000 minimum guarantee required. There were reports that Pittsburgh might offer a last-minute bid.

JOY AND SORROW TO INTERMINGLE IN ALLOCATION

Pope Pius Will Meet Cardinals On Monday

By A. E. Stuntz, Associated Press Foreign Staff, Vatican City, Dec. 14.—Joy and sorrow are likely to intermingle in Pope Pius' allocation to the College of Cardinals Monday.

Prelates believe the Holy Father will express his satisfaction with such recent religious manifestations as the Eucharistic Congress in Buenos Aires and Cleveland, and his discontent with "sieges" against spirituality elsewhere.

The Cardinals will meet their sovereign in a secret consistory. He will elevate the 20 prelates whose names were announced recently, bringing the college to 69, one less than the total prescribed by Canon law.

The consistory probably will confirm or recognize appointments of Archbishops and Bishops named since the last consistory.

The public consistory—one of the most elaborate and spectacular ceremonies of the Catholic rites—will be Thursday. Then the Pope will receive the red hat upon the new Cardinals.

None of the new Cardinals will attend Monday's consistory. They will await outside Vatican City the arrival of Papal messengers with tidings of their elevations.

The existing Cardinals, many of whom have come to Rome from distant archdioceses, will convene in the consistory hall under their Dean, 84-year-old Cardinal Pignatelli de Belmonte.

Often the Pope's allocation makes a thorough examination of the whole range of religion. At other times he confines his remarks to specific instances of religious life which have caused him joy or grief. The exact nature of his allocation is never revealed beforehand.

After his address the Pope will propose the 20 new Cardinals and the Sacred College will raise its red hats to signify approval.

Thereupon the consistory will send a chamberlain, a master of ceremonies, and a papal architect to inform the new Cardinals of their elevation. They will receive their "berretas" or square hats and skull caps, from the Pope's hands Wednesday evening. Thursday morning they will receive formally in the public consistory ceremonies in St. Peter's Basilica.

SON-IN-LAW OF CHAS. S. DENEEN SHOT FATALLY

T. W. HOUSE, JR. FOUND DEAD IN HIS BASEMENT

Was Nephew Of Col. E. M. House, Wilson Adviser

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 14.—James F. Taylor, who lives along the Dupage river at Channahon, Ill., was fined $50 today by Justice of the Peace C. D. Sullivan when he was convicted of shooting a hunting dog which the owner, William Gillans, said was worth $100.

The fine was lifted by the court when Taylor agreed to settle for the dog—but he had no money.

Taylor made Gillans an offer of 30 traps, valued at $150 each, a used automobile (Ford) and eight skunk and muskrat skins.

Gillans accepted and court records showed the $100 deal closed.

Trapped said House left notes addressed to his wife and children saying "I couldn't make the grade."

House, vice-president of the Texas Long Distance Telephone company, was found fatally wounded in the basement of his home. He had been shot four times in the chest, one bullet making a flesh wound and the other three going through the body.

He was dead upon reaching a hospital, but a physician reached the scene before he died.

House had been here about eight months. Previously he had been stationed in Cincinnati, New Orleans and Washington, D. C.

Besides the widow, survivors include a daughter, Bess Ashby, 3, born in Cincinnati, and another daughter, Bina Louise, born here three weeks ago.

Kidnap Suspects Placed In Jail

Chicago, Dec. 14.—(P)—Back to jail after a brief court appearance today, Russell Knowles and Herman Kierdorff, charged with kidnaping John S. Labatt, will remain in the cells on a week's remand.

Brought to London after their capture in Ottawa, Ill., the two alleged members of the gang that abducted the brewer in August, 1934, appeared before Magistrate C. W. Hawkshaw. They made no plea.

Crown Attorney Norman Newton said he would proceed with a charge of armed robbery against Knowles, but would talk with Kierdorff and "there might be a change in the charge against him."

Before arrival of the pair in London under police guard late Friday it was reported Kierdorff allegedly was one of the organizers and financiers of the plot in Detroit. Knowles, meanwhile, police search continued for Albert Pezram, said to be the last of the gang sought. Three others already are serving penitentiary terms.

Small Should Withdraw

Former Governor Len Small of Kansas has "definitely decided" to run for the Republican nomination for Governor, according to announcement by a Chicago newspaper. The chief spokesman in the case seems to be Col. Frank H. Smith, Jr., of Kansas. Mr. Small is a friend of the Republican party and wants to win at the polls in 1936. He had better reconsider his decision. If he wins the nomination, it will mean another Democratic administration in Illinois, which is something Republicans must consider when they go to the primary next April. They should choose a man who can win against the powerful Democratic machine, with its big payrolls and federal subsidies. Len Small can't do it.

Republicans of the state should unite to stop Small now and prepare to nominate a man who can be elected.

Friday The 13th

Friday the 13th has come and gone, and we are still in the land of the living and none the worse for bad luck. The published record of good and bad luck might well appear in the news columns for any day in the year. But there were some things that happened internationally that deserve notice.

The proposed Italo-Ethiopian peace went on the rocks, and its two principal promoters had some bad luck. Early in the morning Premier Pierre Laval of France had to visit a dentist. He complained of a toothache and was told one of his wisdom teeth was badly infected. It would have to be extracted.

Laval decided he didn't want an anesthetic, because he wanted to keep his wits clear for a conversation later in the day with Sir Anthony Eden. He "stood the gall," but the hostile reception his peace plan received was even harder to take.

Sir Samuel Hoare, British diplomat who helped cook up the plan, also had trouble Friday the 13th. He went ice skating on a Swiss mountain lake and fell and broke his knee. But even that was nothing to the punishment he got when he "slunk his neck out" by scheming to give Italy two-thirds of Ethiopia.

Townsend Theories

When Dr. Townsend figured on $200 a month for each of the 11,000,000 persons in this country over sixty years of age, he used as a basis for his reckoning the bank turnover of 1929, which was the largest in history, $1,800,000,000,000. The actual figures for 1934 are about a third of that amount, namely, $386,550,000,000.

With the 2 percent tax on bank turnover, which Townsend figured would supply the necessary cash, he would have realized for his pensioners in 1934 only about $54 a month, or a little more than $2 a day. Thus he could not hope to provide the promised pension with time as they are. Most of those who espouse his plan may not know this.

But such a tax means a duplication of taxes on every business transaction in the country. What it would do to prices, the cost of living, the economic structure, and the whole business organization is something beyond the imagination of even a Townsendite.

There is no question of a need for old-age pensions, but they can never be paid on such a scale as Dr. Townsend advocates, at least if the present economic system is to survive. Inflation of the most flagrant sort would be necessary to even start such a plan.

New Mode In Memorials

Emil Ludwig, famous German biographer, had an interesting idea on the current Will Rogers memorial campaign when an interviewer got at him in an American city recently.

"Statues of men like him would be fine things for a country," he said. "In Europe the streets are filled with statues of generals. Naturally, the youth asks who these men were and receives a sort of military education in the reply."

That is a good point. It ought to be a fine thing for a child to learn that a man who spent his life creating laughter and spreading happiness is deemed as worthy of a memorial statue as a statesman or general who led his country into a war and caused innumerable tragedies.

Dangerous Overflow

There seems to be something rather cock-eyed about recent gold movements. Current Federal Reserve statistics show that the stock of monetary gold now held in the United States reaches the staggering total of $10,000,000,000—more than there was in the entire world a decade ago, more than twice as much as the country held in the fall of 1931, before either England or America went off the gold standard.

Furthermore, it is still coming in. Since the first of September, more than $800,000,000 worth of gold has entered the United States, and the movement is still unchecked.

It is hard not to suspect that there is something exceedingly unhealthy about this golden flood. How can world trade hope to get back to normal when all the gold continues to flow into one country?

Are we actually getting within sight of that economic nightmare, a situation in which the other nations will simply give up gold permanently and find some new base for the world's currencies?

SO THEY SAY!

I prophesy that it will not be many years until the United States has as her next door neighbor another U. S. S. R.

—Carville Wells, explorer, referring to Mexico.

The public doesn't care who the football players are, or where they come from, as long as they hammer one another on the field.

No single power in the world today has the power to stop the Japanese. Only the combined navies of Britain and the United States could speak with authority to them.

BARBS

A BRILLIANT PLAY, BUT—

Miss Beulah Ennis To Be Married at Petersburg Dec. 28

L. C. Alumna, Sister of Local Resident, to Wed Member of Cornell Faculty

Who else, William M. Butler, ex-G. O. P. chairman, Hoosier trustee who started all this, next to Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith, South Carolina, John W. "Wedding Cake" Davis, in on all these anti-New Deal cases, New Baker, small, brown, spectacled, Senator Costigan, Colo., who got sugar beet growers to file AAA brief, and Senator Murray, Mont.

The Honorable the Supreme Court of the United States—Oyez! Oyez! Over! pronounced Oyez as in "Yea, ho!" All persons now having business with this court—

Cardozo, white-haired, shaggy, coughed, reads opinions . . . Hughes leans on his beard . . . Brandeis resembles a benign Egyptian pharaoh . . . Frankfurter, urbane, sleekly pathetic . . . Butler, like a country hardware storekeeper . . . McReynolds—a bald eagle.

Newspapermen try to guess what Van Devanter, who always looks about to die of grief, keeps chewing all the time . . . Roberts, in clear, vigorous voice, reads a decision which bars a local widow from her husband's workmen's compensation.

Hughes reads decisions and says further court orders will be found on printed list. (One turns out later to be the turnover of Hauptmann.) Death in two lines: First, 1932, Hauptmann vs. State of New Jersey in a long list of appeals and at the end, "The petition for writs of certiorari in these cases are severally denied."

Big round gold clock suspended over Hughes' head says 2 p. m. and it's recess to 2:30 for lunch.

At 2:30 p. m., Hughes calls for U. S. versus Hoosier Mills. Up rises Reed, colorless, no flowery or showy stuff, no gestures, competent, monotone, defending the act . . . McReynolds asks how secretary of agriculture computes tax. Others ask like questions.

Reed stumbles a bit—he can't quite put his finger on the necessary pages of record.

Associate do it for him. Brandeis tries to help him and Reed seems to think it's a trap . . . Reed closes, reserving time.

Handsome Pepper, with husky, tremulous whispers and fervent gestures, attacks power of Congress to pass such an act. You'd think he was grandpa telling kids "goblins will getcha if ya don't watch out"—and believing every word of it.

Next day his aides present scholarly, dry analyses of the "delegation of power" issue. (What the h—do the farmers care?) . . . Pepper risks again, more fervent than ever. Tries to make it appear pure logic is trying to overcome pent-up emotion.

In that hoarse, quivering voice: "I am pleading the cause for the America I love, and I pray Almighty God that not in my time will the land of the regimented be substituted for the land of the free." Look at that fabled in Hughes' eyes!

Reed rises. Says he's just as emotional as Pepper—and shows it. Emotional, he says, about unfair disadvantage to 30,000,000 "farm men, women, and children."

His arms wave. "General Welfare . . . This is no regimentation!" Government lawyers, some previously critical of Reed for lack of force and preparation and comparing him unfavorably with Pepper, are delighted.

It's later the same day, arguing for the Bankhead cotton act, that Reed collapses. McReynolds and other conservatives rag him on a technical issue.

The strain of it all—especially the AAA—makes Reed lose his grasp of the questions and his argument. A fainting spell overcomes him. (Remember that line about Tut's curse?) And it's demonstrated that no man should be made to take on defense of all the vast complicated maze of New Deal legislation before the supreme court.

Miss Beulah Ennis To Be Married at Petersburg Dec. 28

L. C. Alumna, Sister of Local Resident, to Wed Member of Cornell Faculty

St. Charles, Mo.—Engagement of Dr. Beulah P. Ennis, head of the biology department at Lindenwood college here, was announced Friday to Dr. Hugh Glasgow of Cornell University and the New York Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva, N. Y.

They will be married Dec. 28 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ennis, Petersburg, Ill.

Their acquaintance began three years ago when they attended the marriage of two of their colleagues, Dr. Lydia John, then a professor in the Lindenwood college biology department, and Dr. Foster Gambrell, associated with Doctor Glasgow at the state experimental station.

Dr. Ennis, whose engagement is announced in the above account, is a sister of Dr. R. R. Ennis of this city. She graduated from Illinois college with the class of 1918. Since her graduation here, she has enjoyed a most successful teaching career.

Dr. Ennis verified the report of his sister's approaching marriage and today gave further details of the ceremony. The wedding will take place in the Baptist church at Petersburg in the presence of a large assembly of friends and out-of-town guests. Dr. Ennis will escort the bride to the altar and his small son, Jimmy Ennis, will serve as ring bearer.

The ceremony will be performed by Dr. Bierco of Brooklyn, N. Y., a close friend of the bride couple.

How Much Is a Bank Worth To Its Community?

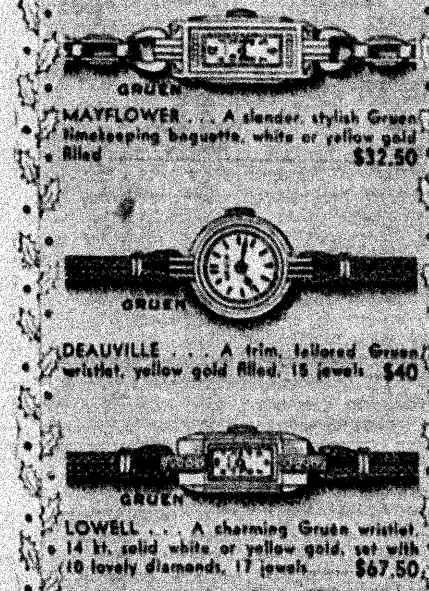

YOU may know how much a week you would have to pay a good cook, bookkeeper or farmhand But how much are the services of a good bank worth to you?

In a word, a good bank's services should be worth what it costs the bank to serve your account, including a fair return on its invested capital. By maintaining a compensating balance in proportion to your account's activity, or by paying a service fee on small, or highly active accounts, which otherwise would cause the bank a loss, you can "hold up your end."

De Bono Bids Troops Farewell

As a farewell gesture to his troops in Africa, General de Bono, ordered home to be made a marshal, decorated eight of the aviators who blazed the way for his army's advance into Ethiopia. The venerable fighter (left) is pictured bestowing the traditional embrace on Count Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law, after placing the medal on him in ceremonies at the Asmara airbase shortly before sailing for Italy.

Ashland Prepares
For Fine Program
At Vesper ServiceThree Organizations Help with Plans; Chorus of 300 is Organized

Ashland, Ill.—Plans are progressing rapidly for the Community Christmas Vesper Service, which will be held in the Ashland Community High school auditorium, Monday, Dec. 23, at 7:30 p. m. This splendid program is being presented under the management of the Men's Community club, American Legion, and Woman's club and promises to be one of the largest affairs of that nature ever given in Ashland, since it includes choruses numbering over three hundred voices.

The program will be arranged in three sections. The first part will be numbers presented by the pupils of the Ashland Grade school, under the direction of Principal Harry W. Trimpie, assisted by his corps of teachers. They will sing the following carols: Luther's "Cradle Hymn," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear."

Glee Clubs Will Sing
The second part will be presented by the High School Glee club, directed by Miss Nancy Lee Torrey, of the high school faculty. They will sing, "O, Come All Ye Faithful," "Hark, The Herald Angels Sing," "Silent Night, Holy Night," and "Joy To The World." There will also be selections by the Girls Quartette.

The last section of the vesper program will be composed of selections by a Community Mixed Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Gene Danenberger. This chorus will sing the following numbers, "Good King Wenceslas," "Cantique de Noel," "The First Noel," "We Three Kings," and "O, Night of Holy Memory." Solo parts will be sung by Mrs. Gene Danenberger and Miss Ruth Ann Sinclair.

Ushers for the evening will be appointed by a committee from the American Legion, and decorations will be in charge of the high school.

The "treat" committee has arranged for a huge supply of candy, nuts and oranges for the children of the community.

Missionary Program
The Woman's Missionary society of the Ashland Christian church met on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. S. Taylor, who was assisted by Mrs. J. P. Shelton. Mrs. Shelton presided over the business meeting, at which time plans were made for sending a Christmas box to the Home for the Aged at Jacksonville. Members are asked to send contributions of canned fruit or foods to the home of Mrs. W. A. Baxter, who is in charge of the Xmas box, which will be packed in a few days.

Mrs. George Bailey was leader of the program which was on the subject of "Peace." Papers were given by Mrs. Susan Gosner, Mrs. Ray Logan, and Mrs. Anna Conover. A game of hidden answers was enjoyed as was a vocal selection by Mrs. L. D. Lewis.

What Hollywood Wears to Greet Santa

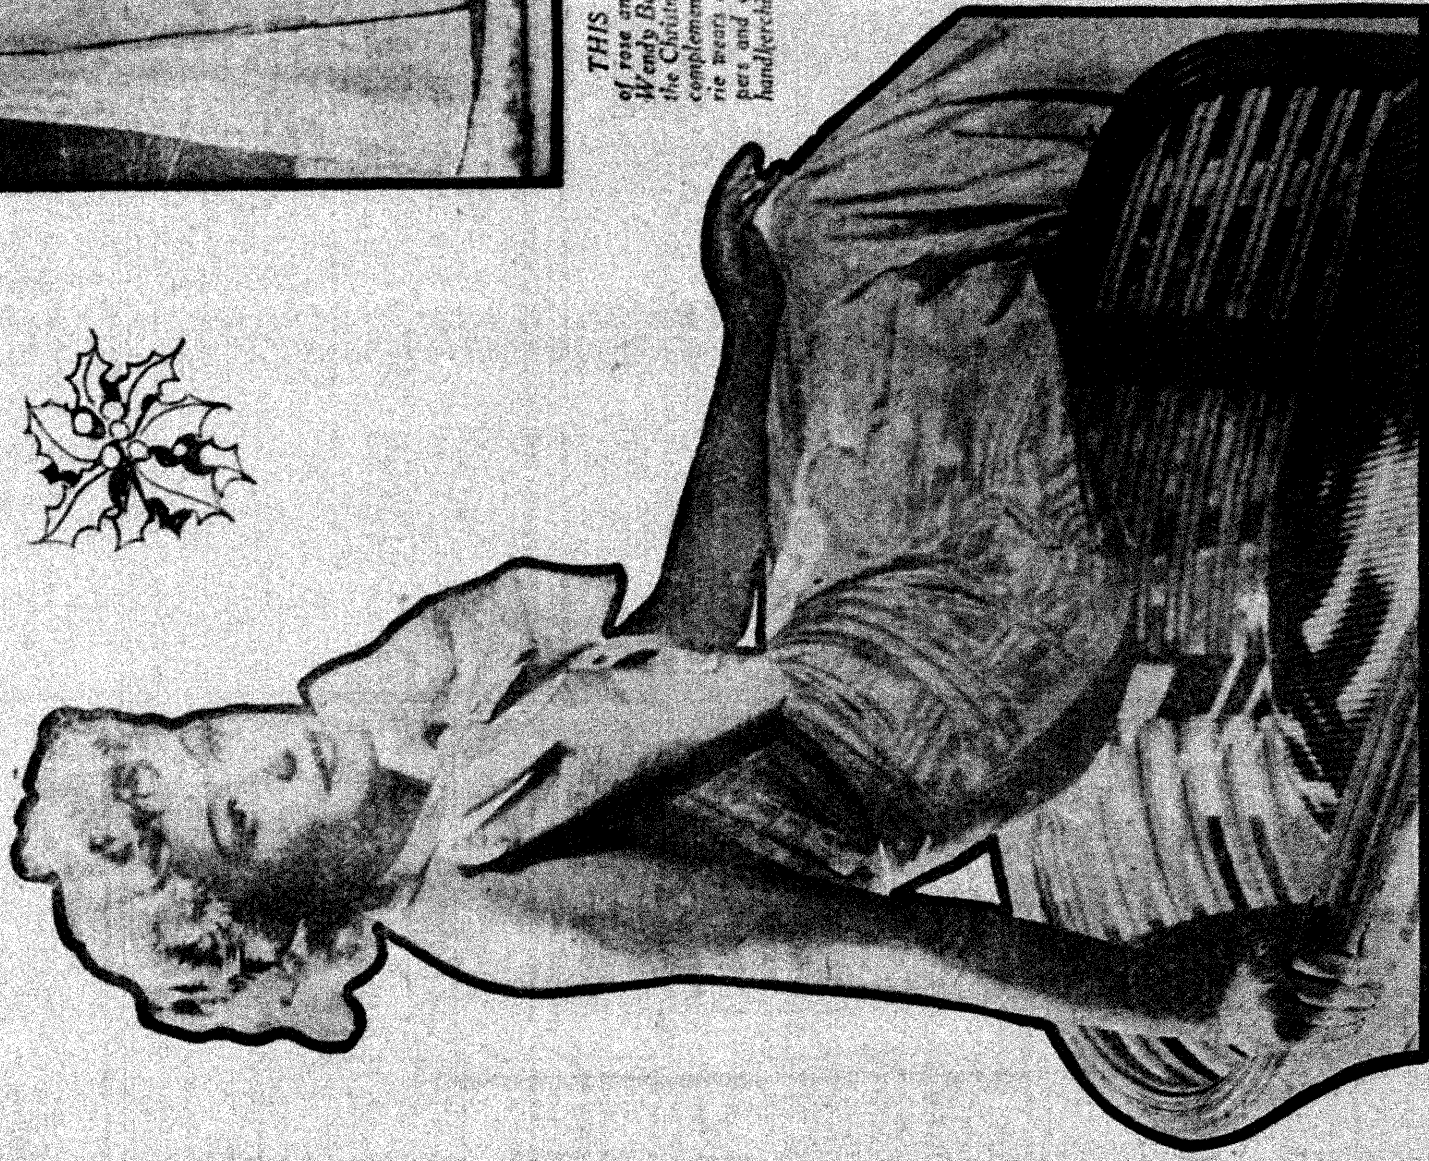

WHEN pretty Jean Howard does her holiday entertaining, she'll wear this striking hostess gown of flowered chiffon. It has a chartreuse green design on a mint green background. The shoulder scarf may be draped about the head, oriental fashion, if the wearer wishes.

AND HERE'S A GIRL who believes in getting out in the moon during the Christmas holidays—Mary Carlisle, who'll be snug no matter what the weather is, in this warm jacket of white suede with a fur-lined hood. Voris is the designer.

THIS WISTFUL ensemble of rose and silver lame is what Wendy Barrie will wear to greet the Christmas social season. To complement her frock, Miss Barrie wears dark rose chiffon slippers and carries a large chiffon handkerchief to match.

UNUSUAL and distinctive is Minam Hopkins' gay new holiday frock. Created by Omar Kiam, it is made of sky-blue moire, and the newest thing about it is the way its halter neck ties in front to form a huge bow.

Hostess frocks, elaborate formal gowns and colorful sports attire go into the star's Christmas wardrobe

HOLLYWOOD. CHIMNEYS are being dusted out and stockings are being purchased several days larger than the ladies ordinarily wear—for Santa Claus is just around the corner. Guest lists are being made out. Acceptances and regrets are being penned on monogrammed paper. A subtle expectancy permeates the air.

There's a reason. Sleek delivery trucks are depositing interesting-looking packages at the rear doors of Hollywood homes—among them new gowns for Yuletide occasions.

Many picture people will entertain by their own firesides. Others will sally forth as Hollywood guests. Still others are planning trips to locations where chiffon and satin must be forgotten in favor of mittens and earmuffs.

On Christmas Eve, Jean Howard will entertain with an open house. For her role as hostess, Miss Howard has chosen a beautiful draped gown of chiffon flowered in two shades—a chartreuse green design on a mint green background. Its long shoulder scarf may be arranged loosely about the neck, or draped over the head in oriental fashion.

For a formal seasonal dinner party, Wendy Barrie has selected a dinner gown of rose and silver lame. The matching jacket, with its wide lapels and military shoulders, fastens snugly about the waist with twin diamond clips.

And incidentally, Miss Barrie went Christmas shopping the other day, between scenes at the studio, and did exactly what all feminine shoppers long to do—the bought HERSELF a present—a swagger-length Russian squirrel coat with a huge detachable collar of gray fox.

Outstanding in Minam Hopkins' holiday wardrobe is a form-fitting gown of sky-blue moire which illustrates a new trick of Hollywood designers. The halter neckline is tied in front to form a huge, stiff bow of matching material, whose "wing-spread" reaches from shoulder tip to shoulder tip. With the gown Miss Hopkins will wear only one accessory—a large star sapphire ring. Omar Kiam created the gown.

The festive costumes of Mary Carlisle and Marsha Hunt tell another story, for those two lucky girls have been invited away to a holiday week-end party at a mountain cabin high above Lake Arrowhead. Miss Hunt has chosen a winter sports outfit of dark brown wool with varicolored purling at the throat, waist, wrists and pockets. A bright green knitted cap with a brown band harmonizes with the purling.

Mary Carlisle has taken her hat off to the new hoods, so when she looked about for snow logs she chose a jacket fashioned of white Australian goat with a hood lined in white fur. Voris did the jacket.

Royal Neighbors Go To Christmas Party

New Berlin Women Enjoy All Day Meeting with Mrs. Guy Hanner

New Berlin — The Royal Neighbors held their annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Guy Hanner Wednesday. An all day party and pot-luck dinner, served at noon, was enjoyed. A Christmas tree with exchange of gifts was the program of the afternoon with the election of officers.

New officers are: Oracle, Mrs. Geo. Bergschneider; vice-oracle, Mrs. T. Y. McLaughlin; past oracle, Mrs. Eva Baldwin; recorder, Mrs. E. T. Bergschneider; receiver, Mrs. L. C. Luby; chancellor, Mrs. E. L. Davis; and marshal, Mrs. James Breeding.

The teachers of the New Berlin High school entertained the members of the New Berlin Woman's club in the auditorium of the high school Friday afternoon, December 13. Mrs. Biye Wenneborg, chairman of music, had charge of the program, which was given over to the pupils of the grade school. A Christmas tree adorned the stage. The program included: A group of songs as an opening number; a tap dance was a feature of the entertainment, given by Norman Jean Komnetk, dressed in clothes typical of a colored girl.

A playlet, "World Peace," by the fifth and sixth grade pupils with Mrs. Wenneborg and Constance DeMuth taking the leading parts. Miss Edith Houston, commercial teacher in the high school, gave a reading, "A Christmas Story," by O. Henry. The Boys' Quartette, Allen DeMuth, Barton Taylor, Robert Pfeiffer and Ivan Stapleton sang, "Silent Night," "Upon the House Tops," and "We Three Kings of Orient Are." An art display by the pupils was enjoyed.

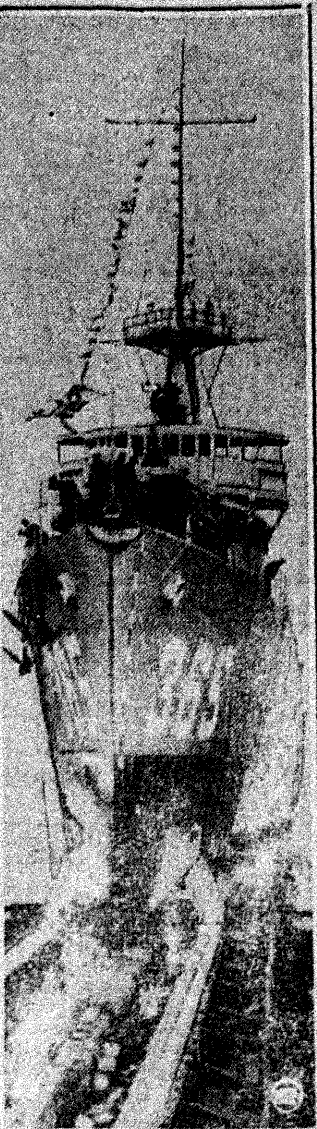

Mr. and Mrs. George Krimzaw left the first part of the week for a motor trip through Nebraska and Colorado for the benefit of Mrs. Krimzaw's health.

The Missionary society of the Baptist church met with Mrs. W. W. Foutch Thursday afternoon.

Miss Grace Kerr, Colorado Springs, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. George Colburn, for the past month returned to her home Wednesday, accompanied by Miss Mattie Eller, who will spend the winter months with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sullivan returned to their home in Coral Gables, Florida, Wednesday. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Davis, who will spend the rest of the winter with them, also Mrs. George Bergschneider, who will visit her daughter, Mrs. William Downing.

Navy Honors Hero With Second Ship

The first ship named in honor of Lieutenant Commander Andrew Boyd Cummings having been scrapped a few years after being built, the U. S. Navy honored him a second time by naming a new destroyer the Cummings. The speedy war dog is pictured as it slid down the ways when launched at Mariner's Harbor, Staten Island, N. Y.

Firemen Keep Busy Fixing Xmas Toys: They Ask for More

'You Bring 'em; We Fix 'em' is Slogan at Firehouse: They Also Try 'em

Firemen are still busy repairing and painting toys to be distributed to needy children as Christmas gifts. The club quarters at the fire house contains a sizable pile of toys of all descriptions, wagons, autos, dolls, trinkets, trains, etc. It would seem these are enough to meet all needs, but the firemen say not.

In fact they are clamoring for more toys to fix up. All their spare time is devoted to hammering, tinkering and painting to get the toys in shape. The work bench is lined with busy workmen, and the rear of the fire station resembles the North Pole factory of Santa Claus.

The variety of toys sent in does not baffle the firemen. They can fix anything, and if necessary they'll try it out and see that it works. The other day one of the boys was working on a large contraption with three wheels that is propelled by tread pedals on which the rider stands. When the job was done and ready for the paint department, the fireman mounted the vehicle and rode about the room in grand style. The lad who gets this machine for Christmas may rest assured it will function splendidly.

The firemen say, bring on the toys. They are eager for more work and more gifts for the boys and girls. They feel that they are doing something to make somebody happy on Christmas. The co-operation of all who have old toys they no longer need, is urgently solicited.

Christmas Favors To Dwight Hospital

I. S. D. Junior Red Cross Makes Trees to Set on Dinner Table

Red Cross headquarters here sent to the Veterans' Hospital at Dwight Friday a hundred table favors for the Christmas feast of patients in that institution. The favors were made by the members of the Junior Red Cross at the Illinois School for the Deaf.

They are in the form of tiny folding Christmas trees, one of which can be placed at each plate. With each tree is a neatly printed Christmas greeting card. There are several hundred patients in the hospital, and similar favors are expected to be sent from other Junior Red Cross units in the state.

The officers and technical personnel stationed at the local CCC Camp report a 100% subscription to the annual Red Cross roll call. Twelve memberships have been turned in from this group.

Rev. Lawler Speaks

A delegation of Legionnaires from Jacksonville attended the Scott county meeting held Friday night in Winchester at the Kiwanis hall, with the Winchester post as host. The South Scott county post, with membership at Alsey and Glasgow, and the Bluffs post were largely represented.

It was announced that the Scott county membership is expected to be 100% of the last year's total by Sunday when the district commanders' and adjutants' conference will be held in this city.

The Winchester post commander opened the meeting and presented Co. Commander Dr. William O'Reilly, of Winchester, who presented the following for brief talks. Lisle Snively of Bloomington, ad to the state commander; Homer Bradney, district service officer; Grant Hughes and Carl E. Newport, past district commanders, and James Pope of Glasgow, district membership chairman.

William Hanley of Jerseyville, present district commander, was the next speaker. He stated that the district

Legion membership is now 43% of the last year's total, and that it is expected to be up to 75% by Sunday when announcement will be made at the conference here.

Grant Hughes next introduced Rev. Fr. Frank Lawler, past department chaplain, who made the principal address of the evening. He talked on the legislation which the American Legion has to present to the next Congress. He emphasized the necessity of making a high membership showing in order to impress Congressmen with the strength behind the legislative proposals.

At the close of the meeting members of the Winchester post served a substantial lunch. There was a large attendance of Legion members.

Right Side of Washington Senator Infield Best in Major League During '35

Chicago, Dec. 14.—(AP)—The highly efficient right side of the Washington Senator infield, second baseman Charles (Buddy) Myer and first baseman Joe Kubel, accounted for two major league fielding records last season.

Both new marks were tied up with the business of turning out double plays official averages released today.

The Senators clicked off 186 double kills, of which Kubel participated in 150. His collection bettered the major league record of 145 set by Jim Bottomley of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1927, and replaced the league standard of 145 made in 1934 by Hal Trosky of Cleveland.

Myer performed in 138 of the Senator doubleplays, breaking the major league record of 128 by Tony Cuccinello of Cincinnati in 1931, and the American League's best previous collection of 125. Stanley Harris, now pilot of the Yankees, established the latter record back in 1923.

New individual champions showed up at every position, while the world champion Detroit Tigers, who tied with Washington for team honors at .774 in 1937, took over sole possession last year at .978.

Jimmy Fox, star first baseman of the Philadelphia Athletics, who went to Boston in the biggest deal of the major league winter meetings, topped his field with an average of .997. The husky slugger was charged with only three errors as he replaced Henry (Zeke) Bonura of the Chicago White Sox, winner of the honors in 1934. Bonura was second last season with .994.

At second base, Charley Gehringer of the Tigers, ranked as the greatest in the game at the position, moved to the top of the list. He handled the

Waverly Turns on Speed to Defeat I. S. D. 33 to 27 as Wells Carries Tiger Load

Waverly high's fast breaking team caught Illinois School for the Deaf flat-footed on the I. S. D. court last night and outsped what appeared to be a tired Tiger team 33 to 27 after the Waverly seconds had succumbed to the Illinois School for the Deaf reserves 30 to 10.

The Waverly lads simply outran the Tigers, breaking in for quick shots to run up their lead. They rushed off in front in the first quarter 12 to 9, and kept clicking during the second quarter while the Tigers slowed down. Waverly led 20 to 12 at the end of the first half.

I. S. D.'s attack began functioning more smoothly in the third quarter, but the Tigers still lost ground as Waverly also began connecting better. The visitors had a 27 to 16 lead when the third period closed.

The Tigers started one of their spectacular rallies in the fourth period, pulling up rapidly on Waverly, and then adding another point when Waverly called a fourth time out.

Wells carried the larger portion of the Tiger load, firing in 18 of the Tiger points, while the remainder of the I. S. D. lads, with the exception of Baumann, did most of their shooting futilely. The Tigers were working the ball in nicely for close shots, but missed the chances when they came.

Newberry was the chief Waverly scorer, pitching in 13 points. Most of the Waverly lads' shots were one-handed, taken from almost any area in which he found himself when close to the basket. Mitchell made three shots, all from difficult angles, while Bryant dropped in the circus shot of the game, a hard thrown shot that skidded across the front of the backboard, and plunked into the hoop.

Both teams appeared to be handicapped in getting away with quick breaks for the basket by a slippery floor. The game was fast all the way.

Cathedral Too Tall For Rout Wins 26 to 10

Springfield, Dec. 14.—Cathedral high's Cyclones picked up the Rout Rockets in a whirlwind of basketball here tonight and swept the Jacksonville team off their feet to win a 26 to 10 decision in an Illinois Catholic league game. Cathedral led throughout the game, scoring more points from the free throw line than they did from the field.

Rout also dropped the second string tilt, Cathedral's reserves winning 12 to 7.

A rangy team that found their best basketball of the season, the Cyclones were out in front at the end of the first quarter 6-2, but they were held on even terms through the second quarter, the half ended 9-5.

Cathedral spurred all through the third quarter to toss in an 18 to 6 lead at the end of the third quarter, and then finished off with an eight point attack, to win 26 to 10.

The Rangy defense kept the Rockets from getting in close for shots, allowing the Jacksonville lads only two field goals. Cathedral scored six times from the field over the heads of the Rout lads, with Brooks and Holmes leading the scoring.

Chapin Finishes Fast To Nip Alsey

Alsey—A nine point rally in the last quarter of a see-saw game here Friday night gave Chapin a 30 to 26 victory over Alsey. The Alsey grades defeated the David Prince "Blue Devils," seventh grade team, 26 to 5, after holding the D.P. team to a 24 to 0 score at the end of the first half.

Alsey held the lead at the end of the first quarter, Chapin was ahead two points at the half, the score was knotted at the three quarter mark and Chapin won out in the final period.

California Wins Over St. Mary's

San Francisco, Dec. 14.—(AP)—University of California at Los Angeles earned the final chapter of its greatest football season into the turf of Kezar stadium, today with a 13 to 7 victory over a favored St. Mary's College eleven.

Outgained on the ground and far behind in first downs, the Bruins sighted an accurate aerial shot and made that shot and one swift ground thrust beat the galloping Gaels.

Unable to make a first down in the first half of the game, the Bruins nevertheless romped off the field at the half leading 6 to 0.

The second period touchdown of the team that finished in a triple tie for the Pacific Coast Conference title, came from a 25 yard pass, Charles Cheshire, all-coast halfback, rifling the ball to Schroeder, left end.

St. Mary's opened the third quarter with a touchdown, gained from a smashing 80 yard drive, and converted the extra tally to go into a one-point lead.

The tide turned again in favor of U. C. L. A. as the last period opened. With the ball on St. Mary's 46 yard marker, the Bruins drove down in two plays and an offside penalty to chalk up the points that clinched the game. Cheshire set off his only good run of the day during the scoring spurge. He broke through the Gaels' right side for a 29 yard gain. It put the ball 17 yards from goal.

A five yard penalty sent the oval to the 12 yard marker, from where Williams, sub fullback, raced over, after faking a pass. Williams had a clear field. He also placed the ball through the uprights for the extra point.

The only real display of power was provided by the Gaels in the 80 yard advance that saw the Bruin line mowed down steadily until Maxham, fullback, went over from the one-foot stripe.

On two other occasions, however, St. Mary's failed to score, once on a field goal and once when Maxham fumbled less than a yard from the last line.

Cool weather held the crowd down to 8,500.

White Hall Defeats Hillview 34 To 26

White Hall, Dec. 14.—Rallying in the second half, White Hall eagles tonight swept into the lead to defeat Hillview in a thrilling battle of baskets. Hillview seconds overwhelmed the White Hall reserves 30 to 14 in the curtain raiser.

A four point lead Hillview piled up in the first quarter stuck with them through the second period, but wilted under a terrific White Hall fire during the third quarter. The White Hall team took a one point lead at the end of the third period and stretched it to eight points by the end of the game.

Lasiter Scores 32 Points as Blueboys Take Annual Loss; Defense is Woefully Limber

Carbondale, Dec. 14.—Louis Lasiter, Illinois College center, had a field day here tonight, but a woefully weak defense and a red-hot Southern Normal University basketball team served to hand the Blueboys their annual defeat on the Carbondale Teachers college court 55 to 46 in a wild scoring battle.

Lasiter tossed in 18 field goals and a pair of free throws to easily lead the scoring for the evening, but the whole Blueboys team lacked a defense that could check the rampaging of Troy Edwards, Dohamich, and others on the Southern line-up.

Trailing 20 to 24 at the end of the first half, the Blueboys streaked out in the second half to take over a one point margin, but the southerners speeded up and went back in front to storm down the stretch a nine point winner.

The defeat was the first of the season for the Blueboys who are co-defenders of the Little 19 title. Illinois lost its only game under a like situation last year to the Southern team.

Loss of the two Fletcher boys, during the last four minutes of play seemed to remove any hopes the Blueboys might have had of staging a last minute rally. Cecil was forced out of the battle with four fouls with four minutes to go, and Virgil followed him two minutes later.

Van Meter started the Fletchers, Fred May and Mattson along with Capt. Lasiter and spent most of the evening shifting his guards in an effort to stop the scoring of Edwards, who pitched in 20 points. May stayed all but five minutes of the game, and gave a good account of himself despite the fact that he tallied only four points. All of the Blueboys were feeding the ball nicely to Lasiter.

Boxer Suspended

Philadelphia, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Eddie Cool, lightweight boxer, and Sam Weinberg, his manager, were suspended indefinitely by the State Athletic Commission today for Cool's refusal to fight Tony Palso in the main bout of a boxing show last night with Tommy O'Keefe as referee.

Commissioner Joe Rainey ordered Cool's share of the purse held up after he was forced to substitute Matt Adiga for O'Keefe.

Cool won a decision in 10 rounds.

WANT GAME

St. Paul, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Hamline University, defending state basketball champions, today stepped into the challenging field.

Deprived of a game next week when Western State Teachers of Macomb, Ill., cancelled a contest set for Thursday night, Coach Joe Hutton finally appealed to the reporters today to help arrange a date for his fast-stepping quintet.

"We've got to have a game next week and so we are willing to take on all comers," said Hutton.

J. H. S. Turns On Speed to Beat Indians

Pittsfield, Dec. 14.—Turning on their speed, Jacksonville high raced to their fifth straight victory here tonight over Pittsfield's Indians 42 to 25. The Crimson fired their way into the lead at the start and Pittsfield never caught up.

The Crimson also won the second string game 30 to 20. They led 8-4 at the quarter, 16-8 at the half, 24-13 at the three quarter mark.

Led by Bobby Hamm, who turned in 15 points in an orgy of shooting the Crimson sped over the Indians to win handily. They were slipping the ball around the court with well timed passes, and completely outplaying the Indians all the time.

Ferguson finished second in the scoring race, dumping in nine points, and John Bellatti was next with eight points. Junior Willard was the high Pittsfield gunner, scoring 11 points.

The Crimson raced out to a 21 to 8 lead in the first half, and then slowed down some as the big Pittsfield court took some of the zip out of their attack. They were still working neatly at the finish, however.

Pittsfield, Dec. 14.—Turning on their speed, Jacksonville high raced to their fifth straight victory here tonight over Pittsfield's Indians 42 to 25. The Crimson fired their way into the lead at the start and Pittsfield never caught up.

The Crimson also won the second string game 30 to 20. They led 8-4 at the quarter, 16-8 at the half, 24-13 at the three quarter mark.

Led by Bobby Hamm, who turned in 15 points in an orgy of shooting the Crimson sped over the Indians to win handily. They were slipping the ball around the court with well timed passes, and completely outplaying the Indians all the time.

Ferguson finished second in the scoring race, dumping in nine points, and John Bellatti was next with eight points. Junior Willard was the high Pittsfield gunner, scoring 11 points.

The Crimson raced out to a 21 to 8 lead in the first half, and then slowed down some as the big Pittsfield court took some of the zip out of their attack. They were still working neatly at the finish, however.

WANT GAME

St. Paul, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Hamline University, defending state basketball champions, today stepped into the challenging field.

Deprived of a game next week when Western State Teachers of Macomb, Ill., cancelled a contest set for Thursday night, Coach Joe Hutton finally appealed to the reporters today to help arrange a date for his fast-stepping quintet.

"We've got to have a game next week and so we are willing to take on all comers," said Hutton.

Pittsburgh Beats So. Cal. 12 To 7 touchdown of the season after he had gained more than 150 yards this fall without crossing the goal line and this was the difference in the final accounting.

The halfback was a constant threat, for even when he did not run with the ball, the Trojans thought he might.

Southern California gave the crowd of approximately 35,000 its first chance to yell for the House of Troy when the game had less than a minute to go by completing a pass from the Pitt 29 yard line. Dave Davis to Bill Gainsford, who caught the ball on the ten yard line and ran on to score.

The Trojans escaped a shutout in the fifty-ninth second of the eleventh hour when it seemed they never would score. The Panthers' great defensive play had stopped the Trojans a minute before when they took the ball on the one yard line, and in the second period the home guards had seen the door shut in its face on the five yard line. Pitt, too, had its chances but could capitalize on only two. Pittsburgh scored the first touchdown of the game in the middle of the first period when Frank Souchak intercepted a pass in midfield. He found himself surrounded evenly by a mass of Trojans and tossed the ball to Paul Shaw who struggled a few yards to Southern California's nine yard line. Three plunges left the ball only a yard from the goal and Frank Patrick plunged over on the fourth try.

The second score for the visitors came after a march of 81 yards. With two dashes of 25 yards by Raudour helping their cause, the Panthers moved steadily to within seven yards of Southern California's goal. Raudour then helped himself to his only touchdown of the year. Homer Beatty blocked the try for extra point.

Says Brown Bomber Hasn't Met Anyone Who Can Do Any Work With Mitts; Good Boy, He Says

By Eddie Breit

Associated Press Staff Writer

New York, Dec. 14.—Joe Louis, the new toast of Harlem, was hailed as a second Jack Dempsey along Broadway today by almost everybody except the old Manassa Mauler himself.

Bill the idol of the fight fans, Jack stopped pumping hands in his Eighth avenue restaurant long enough to give an authoritative lowdown on the brown bomber, whose fists are making ring history every time he climbs through the ropes.

Dempsey freely admits Louis is the outstanding heavyweight prospect in years, but he goes a bit slow on the superman stuff.

"We're not going to know if Louis is really great until we throw him in the ring with somebody who will do a little fighting himself," he said.

"Joe has got to fight somebody who can not only take plenty, but give plenty back. Until a man of this calibre is found we'll not know just how good he is."

"Trouble is most of the fellows he has been fighting folded up as soon as they were cracked. Joe has yet to meet a fellow who could or would take it long enough to get in a few punches on his own account."

Jack didn't hesitate a minute when asked whether Max Schmeling or James J. Braddock has the best chance of trimming Louis.

"Braddock unquestionably," he said. "Jim can take it and he has a pretty good right hand punch. He knows what to do in the ring and won't fall for any tricks. He's hard to hit. Schmeling can be hit much easier. And he can't punch as well as Braddock."

"I'm not telling you Braddock could

MUSCH FUNERAL TO BE CONDUCTED AT BEARDSTOWN TODAY

Beardstown, Ill., Dec. 14.—Funeral services for Mrs. Vieve Derry Musch, wife of Harry Musch, and prominent musician of Beardstown, who died at 8:30 p. m. Thursday at Schmidt Memorial hospital, will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the Methodist church with the Rev. T. J. Crapp in charge. Interment will be in the Oak Grove cemetery.

Vieve Derry was born Dec. 4, 1895 in Astoria, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Derry. About twenty years ago the family moved to Beardstown where she was united in marriage to Harry Musch, now manager of the East Side Co-operative Store No. 2.

Mrs. Musch was prominent in music in which art she received her education after graduation from the local high school, at Woman's College, Jacksonville, Louisville Conservatory of Music, Chicago, and McPhail College, Minneapolis.

She was engaged for nine seasons in lyceum and chautauqua work and was director of the Methodist choir for the past few years. She was also a faithful member of the Choral Club, Woman's Club and Women's Benefit Association.

She is survived by her husband, Harry Musch, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Derry and one sister, Mrs. Ed Reichert, all of Beardstown.

December birthdays were celebrated by the Ladies Aid society of the Congregational church Saturday afternoon with a luncheon at 1 p. m. in the church, dining hall and a Christmas Panopline.

Membership in the birthday group is open to all. Dues are paid in pennies according to the number of birthdays.

As It Is at St. Moritz, So It Is at Callander

"Maybe you think I'm too young for skiing," says Yvonne Hennen, "but I understand this is what the fashionable ladies are wearing for winter sports at St. Moritz. Tomorrow you'll see me and my sisters as we look together when we get bundled up in these snappy suits for a sledding party."

Dr. R. W. Hockman Killed By Bomb In Ethiopia

(Copyright, 1935, by the A.P.)

Jijiga, Ethiopia.—Dr. Robert W. Hockman, of Wheaton, Ill., American missionary in Ethiopia, was killed Thursday while handling an unexploded Italian bomb at Dagah Bur on the southern front, it was learned today when his body was brought here for burial.

The young doctor leaves his widow and a month old child, now at an American mission in Egypt.

Dr. Hockman came to Addis Ababa early in December, en route to Egypt to see his child for the first time, but Red Cross authorities persuaded him that his services in Ogaden province were indispensable.

He made a hobby of studying bombs and had himself removed the detonator and supervised his signing-out of a nine-foot deep unexploded projectile at Dagah Bur recently.

Chicago.—(P)—Dr. Robert William Hockman, American Medical Missionary to Ethiopia, whose death Friday was reported from the southern war front today, was 28 years old and a resident of suburban Wheaton.

Informing of his son's death by telephone, Dr. W. H. Hockman, of 415 East Madison avenue, Wheaton, said tearfully, "Thank you for calling."

Dr. Hockman was the son of Dr. William H. Hockman of 415 East Madison Ave., Wheaton, former missionary now on the faculty of Moody Bible Institute in Chicago. His parents, two brothers and a sister survive him.

Dr. Hockman was born in 1907 in China, where his father was a missionary for 30 years, including the period of the Boxer rebellion.

The son attended a British boarding school at Chelton. At the age of 17, the family went to London, later returning to the United States and settling down at New Concord, Ohio.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Joyfully DANA WESTBROOK comes from abroad to make her home with her grandmother, MRS. WILLIAM CAMBERN.

Dana's half-sister, NANCY WALLACE, resents Dana's coming.

Mrs. Cameron is elated when love RONALD MOORE falls in love with her granddaughter, Dana. Unhappily, her home is invaded by DR. SCOTT STANLEY, a struggling young physician.

Nancy, who masks her love for Ronald behind an antagonistic attitude, unhappily watches his love for Dana deepen. Just as anxiously, PATIA LOVG watches Scott Stanley's interest in Dana increase.

Dana and Scott, sweet alone by their love for each other, devote to water. Mrs. Cameron predicts that the marriage will not last.

Paula is torn by an emotional storm over the news that Scott has married Dana. Then she becomes a friend of Dana's, and a constant visitor at her apartment.

Dana ruins a dinner and Scott comes home to find her helpless trying to repair the damage.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXII

SCOTT looked at Dana and took in all the details—troubled hair, eyes in which tears were lurking, tremulous mouth.

"You poor kid," he said, drawing her into his arms. After a comforting interval, he took inventory. It appeared that, in the process of cooking dinner, Dana had pulled out every pot and pan in the place. Moreover she had not been far wrong when she had said "everything" was ruined.

"I don't know what happened to the chicken," Dana wailed. "I followed directions, just as I've always done, but it tastes like leather. No one could possibly eat it."

After a brief examination of the chicken, Scott answered in a professional tone. "It just happens that you have cooked the grand-father of that last chicken we had."

"Oh!" said Dana, enlightened for the first time that there could be a great and vital difference in food meat.

And though long habitation of the barnyard the old bird developed a very tough resistance to knives and forks," Scott added.

"Oh, Scott, don't be funny at a time like this!"

"Well, what else is there in the house? I could dash out some where for a baked ham."

"There's nothing else," Dana answered soberly. "You see, Scott, while I was worrying about the chicken, the sweet potatoes scalded. And then I was so nervous I forgot to put the apple salad in the ice box until a little while ago. And look at it!"

The apple salad, a delectable looking mess, met Scott's eye.

"Maybe it will tell by dinner time," Scott looked hopefully at his watch. "Ye gods, Dana, they'll be here in half an hour."

"Let's scrap the whole mess," Scott suggested. "I know a place where they fix up a swell fried chicken loaf. We'll have them send out a salad, too, and I'll order brick ice cream."

"Our dessert's all right," Dana said, brightening. "The cream did whip."

"Make a pot of coffee, and every-thing will be jake."

Dana followed directions. Somehow, with Scott's help, order was magically restored out of chaos. Pots and pans disappeared into their proper places with amazing celerity. Coffee was bubbling merrily in the pot when the delivery boy arrived with Scott's ready-made dinner.

On a pretty platter, the oblong bread loaf, in which golden brown chicken was concealed, looked delectable and tempting. Especially with a fresh green garnish about it. The salad was a zesty thing, with tomato, celery, with pimiento. No fault could be found with Dana's coffee and the dessert.

Scott opened a bottle of champagne which one of his friends had given him to use for some special celebration. "And what better to celebrate than pulling you out of a hole?" Scott said.

Everyone had eaten with apparent zest. Paula had said, "Dana, you clever darling to think of such a delicious and informal dinner. I could tear my hair in sheer envy."

The champagne had given the evening a real dash of brilliance. Finally they had all piled into Paula's car and gone places.
